DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's preliminary amendment filed 2/13/2006 is acknowledged.
Claims 49-91 are pending and are subject to the following restriction.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 49-89, drawn to a method of diagnosing Hepatitis C virus, comprising contacting an isolated amino acid sequence encoded by an HCV nucleic acid molecule SEQ ID NO: 1 with a biological sample from a subject, classified in class 435, subclass 339.

If Group I is elected the Applicant is further required to elect one amino acid sequence, which will be used in the method of detection of the presence of the antibody in the sample.

- a) SEQ ID NO: 2
- b) SEQ ID NO: 3
- c) SEQ ID NO: 4
- d) SEQ ID NO: 5
- e) SEQ ID NO: 6
- f) SEQ ID NO: 9

Art Unit: 1648

- II. Claims 90 and 91, drawn to a kit for diagnosing HCV, comprising an amino acid sequence immobilized on a surface and a labeled secondary anti-human antibody, classified in class 530, subclass 300.

3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. For example the amino acid sequence can be used for immunization purposes. A search for peptide sequences is not co-extensive with a search for a method of use of the diagnostic kit comprising the peptides. It is an undue burden for the examiner to search more than one invention. Therefore restriction for examination purposes is proper.

Furthermore, the six amino acid sequences are different structurally and must be searched not only in commercial amino acid sequence databases, but also in textual databases of non-patent literature. Searching all amino acid sequences together would present a serious search burden on the Office.

Because the inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the literature and sequence search required for one group is not co-extensive with any other group, and therefore presents a serious burden of search, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Notice of Possible Rejoinder

4. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
